Susan Murphy watercolor demonstration at the Sandy Spring Museum

Date: Sunday, November 17, 3-5pm

Who: Susan Avis Murphy, Sandy Spring resident and signature member of the American Watercolor Society and Baltimore Watercolor Society. Susan has more than 40 years of experience painting in watercolor, teaching, and demonstrating.

What: Susan will do a live demonstration of watercolor painting. She will paint a portrait of a famous person, yet to be announced, explaining her methods as she goes along. Guests will be able to easily view the painting in progress because a live video feed will project the image onto a large screen. Also Susan will be painting under a "demonstration mirror", enabling the audience to see the entire table with paper and palette. You will receive a handout describing the process and colors used, so that you can follow along step-by-step.

When: Sunday, November 17, 3-5pm; light refreshments

Where: the Doctor Bird Room of the Sandy Spring Museum, 17901 Bentley Road, Sandy Spring, MD
phone 301-774-3418
www.SandySpringMuseum.org

Why: as an educational adjunct to our current exhibit featuring the artwork of Susan Avis Murphy

How: Sign up online at www.sandyspringmuseum/..... Admission is $20
